Psalm to Highlands

Old Highlands, seat of learning, lovely school,

You saw your small beginning long ago

When tiny institutions were the rule.

Grave crises came and went. You grew, and lo,

Today your name is spread throughout the land —

Thou pride of old Kentucky, guiding hand.

O Highlands, look not back upon the past

Though glorious and happy it may be!

But build for future glory that will last

As do your sturdy walls, your masonry,

And in the distant future all may tell

That through the years you've served your purpose well.

O great and glorious Father, God of all,

Thy blessings breathe upon this institute;

Give fame and fortune to these grounds, these walls;

And heed our pray'rs; make not thy heavens mute.

Old Highlands then shall see the light, the way

That leads to greater deeds — a greater day.

FOREWORD

• • • *T*HE annual is essentially a year book, a history of the year's events, but to those who aid in its publication, it represents an achievement, which is a manifestation of all the knowledge they have accumulated in their years at high school. It is a book of the school, by the Seniors, and for the public.

IN MEMORIAM

WE DEDICATE this page to the memory of Philip Desch, who passed away April twenty-eighth, nineteen hundred and thirty-six.

"Chief" Desch for thirty-five years had been the friend of Highlands' students. Because he was always friendly, jolly, and sympathetic, he was loved by everyone who ever attended Highlands while Mr. Desch so faithfully and capably performed his duties as school custodian. His clean, vigorous, and honest life has been one which all have unconsciously tried to emulate.

Words are inadequate to express our feelings for him, but each of us feels that in some intangible way he is better for having known "Chief".

"Rivers are roads that move and carry us whither we wish to go."

"Education makes a people easy to lead, but difficult to drive; easy to govern, but impossible to enslave."

*"Tis education forms the common mind
Just as the tree is bent the twig's inclined."*

"Under the snowdrifts the blossoms are sleeping, Dreaming their dreams of sunshine and June."

*"O the snow, the beautiful snow,
Filling the sky and earth below;
Over the housetops over the street;
Over the heads of the people you meet."*

"The doorstep to the temple of wisdom is a knowledge of our own ignorance."

Board of Education

THE Fort Thomas Board of Education has always been made up of men of outstanding integrity and business ability. Moreover, they have loved their home city and have vigorously promoted the growth and improvement of the schools.

Fort Thomas is one of the few cities in the state that can really be proud of every one of its school buildings as well as the excellent teachers in each of those schools.

The honors that have been conferred on Highlands High School, year after year, for excellence in academic scholarship, music, dramatics, high school publications, as well as fine school spirit and good sportsmanship are all evidence of the careful provisions to which the Board of Education is constantly devoting time and earnest thought. All honor to them — not only to the present Board of Education, consisting of Mr. F. E. Hall, Chairman, Mr. Andrew Donaldson, Vice-Chairman, Mr. Gibson Rose, Mr. F. J. Stolle, Mr. Randall Stegeman, and Mr. Claude W. Johnson; but also honor to those former members who gave of their time during the years since 1914 when the present Highlands High School building was erected. On this honor roll are the names of Mr. Wm. F. Bruenger, Mr. Thos. W. Hardesty, Mr. Otto Zimmerman, Mr. A. V. Stegeman, Mr. A. F. Scherer, Mr. E. A. Powell, Mr. D. M. Stapp, Mr. James M. Fisher, and Mr. Roger S. Littleford. Genuine thanks are due each and every one of them. The Senior Class of 1936 salutes them.

WORKING TO DEVELOP

PROBABLY the most important step that has been taken at school this year has been the beginning of the construction of the addition to our present building. We have looked forward to this for some time, and now it seems that our hopes are to soon be realized.

This addition is to connect with the old building by a corridor in order to use the two buildings as one.

D. W. BRIDGES
Superintendent of Schools

D. W. Bridges

ELIZABETH CHAPMAN
Secretary of Board of Education

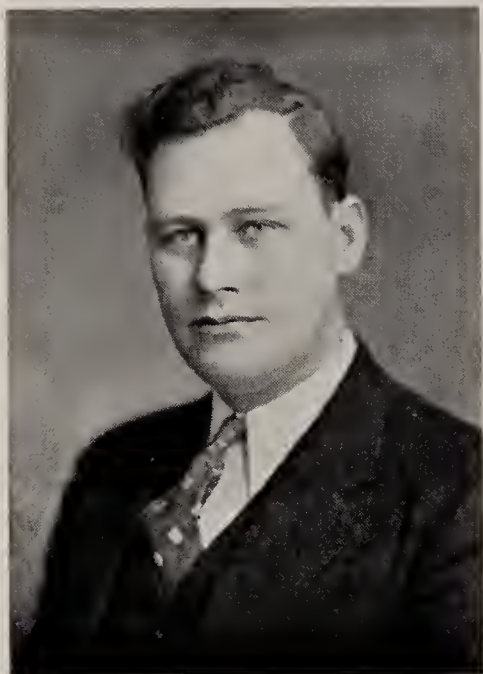

Elizabeth Chapman

The addition will contain many features which are absolutely necessary to any growing school. These will include offices for the administrative members of our faculty, a modernly equipped lunchroom, biology and chemistry laboratories, a manual training workshop, and fine class rooms and study-halls.

Although the present Senior Class will be unable to attend this new building, we are proud to live in a community where the residents realize the importance of education and the factors necessary for providing their children with this education.

The Student Council has performed several duties this year which definitely prove its worth. The first action of the year was to purchase jackets for the cheer leaders. Perhaps the most important act was the choosing of an official senior class ring. Being the most representative group in school, the Student Council was given this task. For the second time, a "White Christmas" was sponsored, and also several ticket sales were boosted. Although the Student Council is not often in the public eye, these actions undertaken by the students themselves play an important part in the management of school life.

RESERVES

Martha Hart

THREE YEARS ago a small group of freshman girls organized the Girl Reserves under the direction of Miss Martha Pollitt. The purpose being "To find and give the best." After these years of struggle it has grown to one of the most prominent clubs in school.

Under the leadership of Miss Louetta Greeno and Miss Williametta Baker, the present co-sponsors, and the cabinet, Betty Lou Halloran, president; Emogene Gould, vice-president; Martha Hart, treasurer; Joanne Smith, secretary, and the squad leaders Nita Creager, Jane Bankhardt, Katherine Hall, June Wise, Madelynn Cook, and Doris Winstel, the club has done many notable things this year.

The social activities for the year were begun by a weiner roast for the new girls, teas and card parties by the different squads have been given throughout the year. The outstanding event was a Leap Year Dance.

Baskets were sent to families at Thanksgiving and Christmas and to a flood stricken family this spring. As a service to our school we sponsored the lectures of Mrs. Frances B. Strain and Dr. Wilzbach.

The one thing the girls anticipate this summer is the visit to Camp Lenmar in New Trenton, Indiana. Our recreation consists of plunges in the wonderful pool, tennis, baseball, shuffle board, overnight hikes and other camp activities. At Camp Lenmar we feel more than ever the wonderful satisfaction that comes with true comradeship.

This fall the officers spent an enjoyable week-end at the Southern Ohio Conference at Dayton. Joanne Smith was elected secretary of the Inner Council.

DEBATE CLUB

IN order that the debating teams of Northern Kentucky might secure more constructive criticism in their speaking, the 1936 season of debating was opened with the organization of a debate conference. Ten schools were represented: Piner, Independence, Burlington, Morgan, Alexandria, New Haven, Beechwood, Erlanger, Hebrun, and Highlands. The national debate question for high schools was, Resolved, That the several states shall enact legislation providing for a complete system of medical care made available to all citizens at public expense. Our own Mr. Anderson, debate coach, was the first president. Miss Elma Taylor was the secretary.

These ten teams were divided into two groups or brackets, the winners of each being awarded a silver cup. The two winners were to meet in a final debate for the conference championship for which a bronze trophy was to be given.

The debating squad, consisting of Marjorie Allen, Lillian Grossman, Charles Brandes, Phillipp Herrmann, Harry McKnight, Paul Brandes, Warner Wilson, and Royce Patton, coached by Mr. Anderson, worked with great diligence.

In order to win the championship of a bracket, it was necessary that a team win every debate in which it participated. Highlands won the cup for its fine work in one bracket, winning all debates by three to nothing decisions. Piner won the cup in the other bracket. Then Piner and Highlands met at the Ruth Moyer School for the conference meet. This was won by our debaters by a four to one decision, and the award, a bronze figure, was presented.

Not content with this splendid record, Highlands spent a week-end at Richmond at the invitation of the Model High School debaters and won three debates from them. All the debaters took part in these contests. The night was spent in the dormitories of the Eastern State Teachers' College. A week later Richmond returned the visit and two debates were held. Our affirmative team won, but our negative team lost. The teams from both schools were entertained with a dinner at La Normandie in Cincinnati.

After many practice debates we went to Winchester. Here again the affirmative team won, while the negative lost. In the district tournament Highlands was defeated in the semi-finals, thus ending a brilliant record for its school.

In the speaking contests our contestants were very successful. Phil Hinerman, who entered public speaking, won both the district and state contests. John Ducker entered junior public discussion, while Phil Herrmann took part in the senior group. Phil, who won first place in the district, was chosen as one of three to go to Louisville for another contest. Bill Mittendorf was the winner of the district contest in oratory.

THE DRAMATIC CLUB, known by a few as Sock and Buskin, has been this year one of the most active organizations at Highlands. With the first call for members the quota was soon filled and aspiring actors turned away. Everyone has worked hard and not one meeting has been held without the presentation of a play. These programs are directed by Miss Moery and Miss White alternately.

From the diversified talent in the club the annual three one-act plays were presented December 13. "Elmer," "The Ghost Story," and "Dust of the Road," were huge successes. This latter play was also given in Covington in connection with the assembly that Highlands presents to Holmes each year.

On April 23 Miss Moery, accompanied by the cast of "Dust of the Road," Joanne Smith, Joe Phister, Cyrus Addams, and Allen Fulmer, drove to Richmond, Kentucky, to take part in the Annual Play Tournament sponsored by Eastern State Teachers' College.

Never had the cast given a better performance. They had been chosen as one of the two casts to play in the finals, but despite high hopes were defeated by Henry Clay High School, which presented an act from "The Enemy." However, the best news is yet to come. Cyrus Addams was awarded the cup for the most outstanding boy's performance in tragedy, the class in which we were required to compete. The other members of the cast received certificates for their meritorious work. Although we did not win, everyone feels that the experience has been well worth while, and we hope for better luck next time.

SYNCOPATION

Nashville Trip

THE clock struck three and forty-four homes shed their light on a city covered with newly fallen snow. Within an hour the chartered bus was crowded with a sleepy-eyed, but enthusiastic group of girls and boys destined for a concert tour with Nashville as the goal. We rolled on for several hours with most of us trying to sleep. At Louisville we enjoyed our home-made snacks and in a very short time were once again on the road. We could no longer refrain from singing and we lustily crooned the classics and the popular melodies. We were literally flying along on wings of song and, luckily for our abused stomachs we shortly were the luncheon guests at the Western State Teachers' College of Bowling Green. After a meal of good "ole southern cookin'" we put our vocal cords and other talents to work again and gave a very worthy concert to an appreciative audience. Goodbyes and thanks offered, we climbed aboard and started on the last lap for Nashville. After a beautiful ride through the mountains, we entered Nashville.

That evening was our own. A good night's sleep (college dorms request a 10 P. M. retiral) found us eager to begin the next day. The girls were aroused from their beauty slumbers one hour too soon. Miss Moery forgot to set her watch back an hour. We needed the hour to apply the finishing touches anyway. So all was well. That day was full of pleasure and excitement. It included a breakfast with the faculty of Peabody college, a concert at the Peabody Demonstration School, a trip through several of the Peabody buildings, a rehearsal at Station WSM, a trip to the Hermitage, a visit by the girls to Ward Belmont and by the boys to Vanderbilt, our big broadcast, dinner at the Andrew Jackson and a dance at the Demonstration School. Bed that night was most welcome, but the thought of arising during the darkest part of morning was not so pleasant. The hour came to depart and it was with heavy eyes and light hearts that we said farewell to a town that had been most hospitable and entertaining. On the way home we visited Mammouth Cave and our rendition of songs in the old caverns was most inspiring. We got home late that night with a feeling of pride and satisfaction for having spent three such days full of fun and entertainment.

"RIP"

"The Colonel"—sterling exponent of the gridiron and hard wood sports — wily strategist — shrewd tactician — humorist — gracious — friend to all — esteemed by associates — a true Southern gentleman.

THIS season a new football award was inaugurated by the Little Six Conference. It is the presentation of the marquee, pictured above, to the football team that is champion of the conference. This marquee is retained by the team for one year or until a new champion is crowned. It is a large banner which bears the colors of each conference school. Each year that a school wins the championship, the numerals representing that year are placed on the banner on the winning school's colors. Inasmuch as this is a new custom, only three sets of numerals now are on the banner. The numerals 1933 and 1935 are on Dayton High School's colors, and 1934 is present on the blue and white of old Highlands. These teams were conference champions in the designated years.

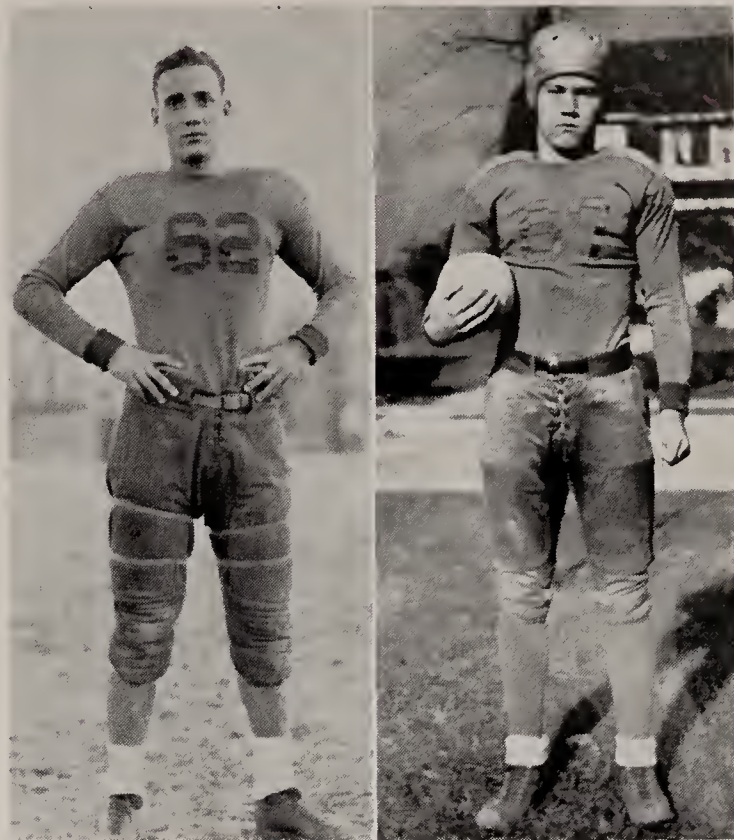

Mr. Rader, more familiarly known as "Pop" or "Honey", has won his way into the hearts of the students of Highlands during the relatively short period he has been at this school. In addition to his track coaching activities he also assists Mr. Van Winkle in coaching football. He is a keen judge of human nature and is able to coax the best out of the men working under him. He has had much experience coaching at other schools and consequently is quite able to impart his knowledge to the willing gridders.

FOOTBALL

FOR years the football teams of Highlands have proved to be formidable and worthy opponents for the other teams in the Greater Cincinnati area. The 1935 edition of the Bluebirds was no exception. This season, as always, Highlands met opponents of the highest caliber, and when the dust and smoke of the final gridiron battle had blown away, the season's record was found to stand at five victories and four defeats. Unfortunately, however, three of the four defeats were administered by conference opponents, and Highlands was forced to relinquish its hold upon the marquee, symbol of conference championship, which was won last year.

A considerable measure of satisfaction was derived, however, from Highlands' sole conference win which was a startling and brilliant upset of the Green Devils of Dayton High, champions of the Little Six Conference this season. At no time during the year was the team defeated by a large score, and only two teams were able to win by margins greater than one touchdown. Norwood and Bellevue won by decisive scores, but Erlanger and Ludlow were barely able to eke out victories by the slender margin of one touchdown each. The success of a team may always be judged by several methods; by their won and lost percentages, by comparative scores, and by the ability of the team to draw paying customers to the box office. This year's team won more games than it lost, outscored the opposing teams by a considerable margin, and was an immense financial success. Thus we have some criterion for judging the team's playing ability.

The season opened auspiciously for Highlands with victories over Vanceburg and Terrace Park. In these games the team played brilliant offensive and defensive ball and completely puzzled their opponents. The following week, in a rough game, the larger and more powerful Indians of Norwood subdued the Bluebirds by a score of 18-0. A lack of capable and experienced reserves was noted in this game and was largely responsible for the defeat. Because of several injuries suffered by key men of the team during the Norwood game, the 'Birds were greatly weakened and were defeated the following Friday by the Juggernauts of Lloyd in a conference tilt. This defeat was indeed ironic because the championship marquee had been raised to the top of Highlands' flagpole with impressive ceremonies immediately preceding the game. Erlanger was able to score only one touchdown despite the weakened condition of the Highlanders. The Cadets of O. M. I. were then met and the game which was meant to be easy preparation for the Bellevue game the following week, turned out to be a hard fought battle in which the Bluebirds were finally victorious by a score of 14-16. The traditional rivalry of Highlands and Bellevue flourished anew, and the inspired Tigers stemmed the Blue Tide by a score of 20-6. From this time until the end of the season the team showed gradual improvement culminating in the brilliant defeat of Dayton. Ludlow won a close game; Crescent Springs was defeated easily; and the remarkable victory over Dayton was attained.

With the opening of practice this fall, Coach Van Winkle found that he had only seven lettermen from last year's great team. The rest of the squad was composed of light, inexperienced men. Nevertheless, a quite capable first eleven was welded from this group by Coach Van Winkle. An unusually large number of injuries to key men greatly hampered the team's play throughout the season until the final game with Dayton. No less than five bones were broken during the fall. The loss of three conference games may be attributed in part to this surplus of injuries. Fred Hall, regular quarter back, and Dorsel Donelan, regular center, were both out of the Erlanger game because of injuries. This game was lost by one touchdown, and with the presence of these two men in the line-up, the score might easily have been reversed. Donelan also was unable to play in the O. M. I. game. The work of Sanders, regular full back, in backing up the line was sadly missed in the defeat by Bellevue, as he too was temporarily disabled and unable to play. Charlie Heil, back, and Rodney Hicks, lineman, were also benched at one time or other during the season by the injury bugaboo.

From the start of the season it was readily apparent that the team had only one serious weakness. A lack of capable reserves greatly handicapped the team and prevented the winning of more games. Because of the great number of injuries suffered by players during the fall, substitutes were more essential to the team's success than in any of the previous years. In the Ludlow and Norwood games especially, was this deficiency of reserve strength noticeable. The subs all lacked the weight, height, and experience which are the prime prerequisites of a football player. Although the team was constantly jinxed by injuries and a dearth of substitutes, it displayed at all times an adamant spirit and an indomitable will which would not admit defeat until the last gun was fired.

The offense employed by the 'Birds varied throughout the season. The power plays of last year were discarded because of a lack of big men who are so essential to this style of play. Speed and deception were the main reliance of the team, and combinations of spinners and reverses presented a type of offense which was pleasing to observe and puzzling to the opponents. In the early part of the season, most of the plays were run from a short punt formation, but later this offense varied from a box to a single wing-back formation. These formations facilitated the use of the spinner and double spinner plays, which were so instrumental in the success of the team in the latter part of the season. The type of defense used varied according to the style of the opponents' offense.

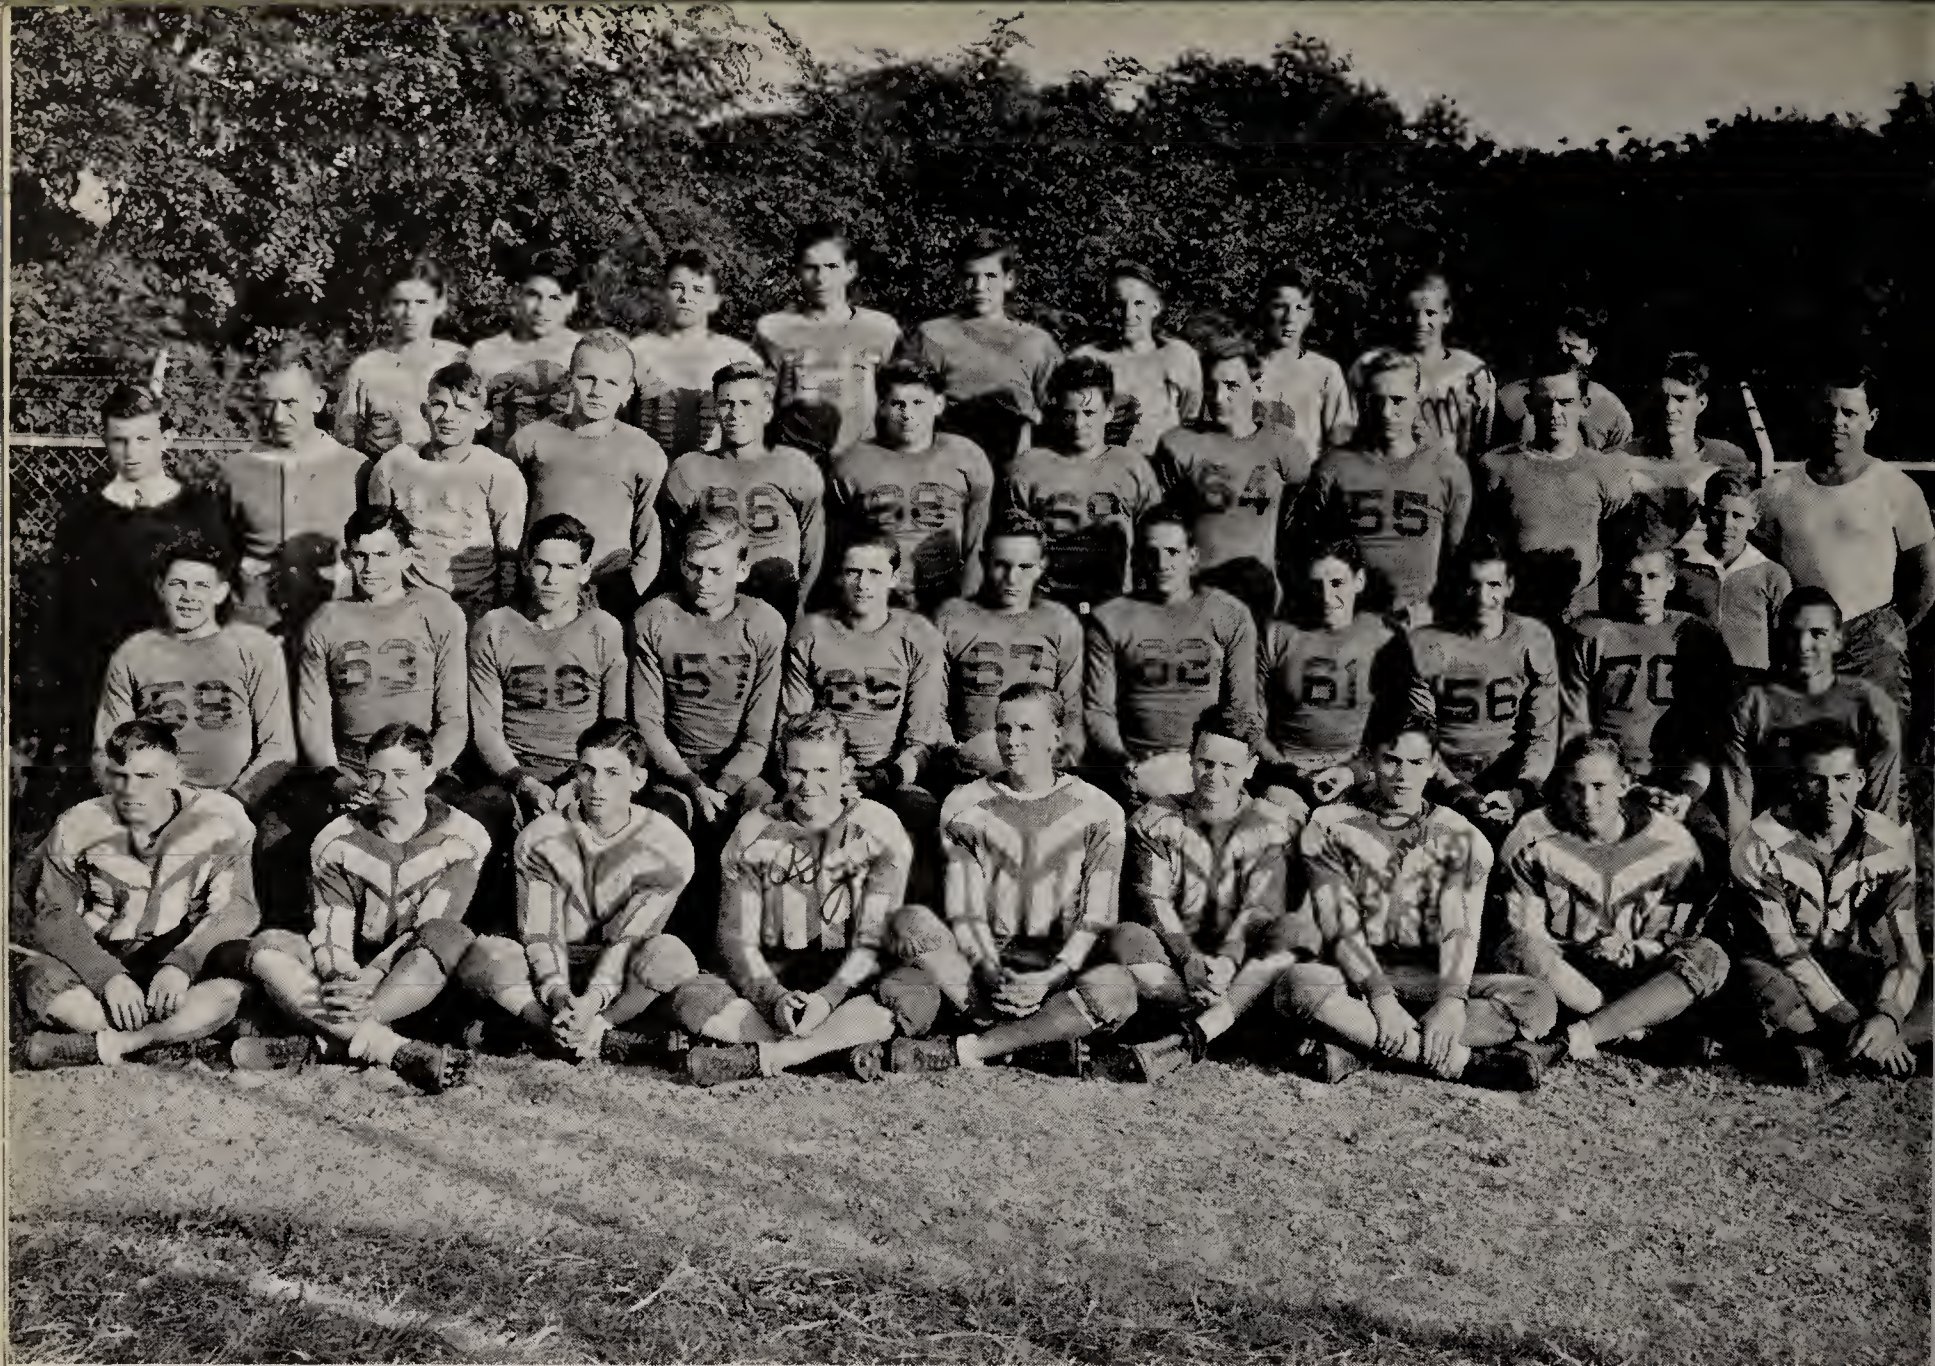

At the close of the season several honorary All Northern Kentucky and All Conference teams were selected by the coaches and the press representatives of Northern Kentucky. Several players from Highlands were placed on these teams. Piccola, guard, and Pfister, end, were placed on both the All Northern Kentucky and the All Conference teams. Hall, quarter back, and Donelan, center, were mentioned for berths on the Conference team. All of these players are seniors.

Seventeen players were awarded letters for their efforts in behalf of the school at the end of the season. They were: Ray Piccola, Charles Heil, Fred Hall, Howard Pfister, Dorcel Donelan, Earl Parrish, Bill Otto, George Sanders, George McKenney, Dick Pothast, Norm Kravitz, Connie Myers, Rodney Hicks, Milton Link, Frank Merrick, Bob Koch, and Bus Johnson. Of that number the following boys were playing their last season for Highlands: Hall, Pfister, Piccola, Hicks, Otto, McKenney, Link, Donelan, and Heil. However, next year's team with the valuable experience which was gained this year, coupled with its own innate ability should be a winner. To next year's captains, Kravitz and Pothast, and to the rest of the team, we wish a successful season.

BASKETBALL

THE swish of a basketball through the cords of the basket was a sound which failed to accompany many of the shots of the basketeers of old Highlands this past season. From this statement it may be inferred that the basketball team was not successful in its quest for honors on the hardwood court. This is true if the judgment is made only on the basis of the won and lost percentages. However, there are other factors which must be considered in estimating the success of the team. Despite the fact that few games were won, many benefits did accrue from the team's efforts. This season served as assurance that next year's team will be more successful. The experience which the "green" players of the squad gained will prove invaluable to them in future games. The improvement in the young players was very noticeable during the latter part of the season, and they were beginning to display real ability on the court.

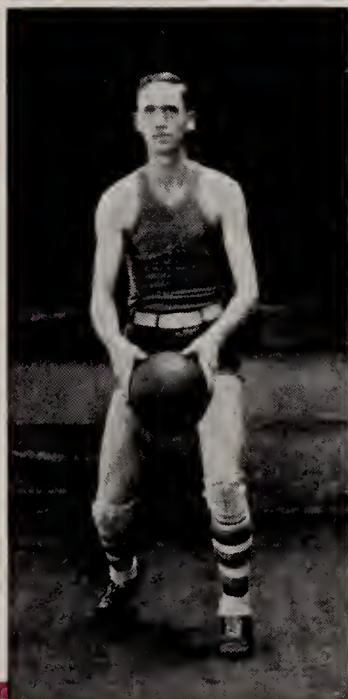

During recent years the sport of basketball has shown an amazing rise in popularity both in this country and in other parts of the world. This year, for the first time, it holds an important place on the curriculum of the Olympic Games in Berlin, Germany. The public interest in the game especially high in Northern Kentucky. The basketball teams in this section are probably the best in the state of Kentucky and all the games are fast and exciting. The Bluebird cagemen had an excellent defensive record for the season when the caliber of the opposition is considered. The opposing teams were able to score an average of only twenty-five points a game against Highlands. However, in general, the Blue-and-White hoopsters lacked sufficient offensive power to outscore their opponents, and a large percentage of the games which resulted in defeats for Highlands would have been marked down on the other side of the ledger if the 'Birds had been a stronger offensive team.

Walter Van Winkle

This winter Mr. Russel Bridges, who has been the Highlands basketball mentor for many years, was unable to resume his coaching activities. Therefore, a new coach for the team had to be obtained. The choice was Mr. Walter "Rip" Van Winkle who has been head football coach and director of athletics for several years. Mr. Van Winkle has had considerable previous basketball experience, having been a star player during his high school and college days and later a successful coach at Winchester, Ky., High School and Kentucky Wesleyan College. His teams, at both the high school and college, played some of the best teams in this section of the country and had made imposing records.

Basketball, as it is now played, requires that the player possess size and experience above all things. Therefore, when the appalling lack of these requisites is noted in the cagemen of the 1935-36 Highlands team, the season's record reflects credit upon the efforts of the players and Coach Van Winkle. The basketball team which lacks height has an immense handicap imposed upon it before the first game is played. Only three lettermen from last year's team were available for the team this season. Other experienced players were not to be found. The large majority of this season's basketball squad were out for the team for the first time. Most of the new material for the team was furnished by the "Colonels", last year's intramural champions. Four of the lettermen of this season are former "Colonels" and they all return next year.

The season opened with three consecutive defeats for the 'Birds, administered by Norwood, Dayton, and Covington. Each of these contests was hard fought and well played and was no discredit to the team. The following week the Crescent Springs hoopmen were met and defeated. This was considered a remarkable victory as all critics and observers had predicted a victory for Crescent Springs. Highlands slumped again and the next four games resulted in defeats. Bellevue won in an exciting battle, Newport and Ludlow were easily victorious, and Erlanger won by the margin of one basket, which was scored in the closing seconds of play. Crescent Springs was then met for the second time and was defeated by an overwhelming score. In return games, Bellevue and Ludlow were victorious by closing scores. Following these defeats, the hoopsters of Highlands played their best game of the season against Terrace Park, Ohio, and were victorious in a hard fought battle. The next game was with Dayton, and it proved to be a most exciting fray. Two overtime periods were necessary to decide the contest, and Dayton finally was the victor by virtue of a long shot in the last seconds of the final period. The next two games resulted in defeats by Oakwood of Dayton, Ohio, and Erlanger. The young players were the stars in these final games and they gave evidence of the fact that they will produce a good team next year. The Bluebirds closed the regular season by defeating Clark County High of Winchester in a decisive manner. In the first game of the district tournament Highlands was eliminated by a hard playing Silver Grove five.

Thus we find that from a total of eighteen games, Highlands won four and lost fourteen. This comprises one of the worst records ever made by a Highlands basketball team, if only the won and lost percentages are considered. The chief value of scholastic sports is to develop the individual physically, mentally, and morally, and this purpose has been fulfilled. However, brighter days are ahead and with five lettermen returning next year the prospects are excellent.

The Parent-Teachers' Association sponsored a dance which was given in honor of both the boys' and the girls' basketball teams following the completion of the schedule. The letters were awarded to the following boys: Hesselgren, Heil, Otto, and Addams, Seniors; and to Pfister, Parish, Ross, Disney, and Kravitz, all of whom return next year. At the close of the season Oliver Hesselgren was elected honorary captain of the team. Next year's captain will be Glenn Pfister.

Elizabeth Roach

SINCE the Girls' Basketball Team lost all its regular players by graduation, the season of 1955-56 opened with a weakened but not inexperienced squad. For years the girls' teams had been victorious, losing only five games in six years. However, victory can not last always, no matter how conscientious the players may be. Consequently, 1955-56 saw the beginnings of a good team, if not a completely victorious one. This year saw another radical change. Our beloved coach, Mr. Bridges, because of ill health, was unable to take charge of the team. However, we were fortunate to have a competent physical education teacher, Miss Roach, who was perfectly fitted to take over the reins and filled the place like a veteran.

At the first call for both seasoned and "raw" players, a goodly number assembled, every girl anxious to have the feel of that old basketball in her hands again. After two "cuts", practice became more strenuous and more absorbing. Every player had her heart set on seeing another victorious team.

As we were to play our first game against the Alumnae, veterans who had made the "Bluebirds" famous, we were not over-confident. However, lack of training and of reserves on the part of the Alumnae and determination upon our part resulted in our being on top of a 14-5 score. And the Alumnae again, February 7th, score, 27-20, in our favor.

Our first game with St. Mary's High School gave us little apprehension. Three times before we had met them and won. Our hopes were not vain, for our visitors went home with a defeat of 52-10. But the return game was a different story. Over-confidence on our part? Perhaps. Anyway, we lost 22-20.

The third game was with Terrace Park. We expected stiff competition, and that is exactly what we received. Our dreams of keeping a victorious team were completely shattered, for we were defeated 21-8. February 11, we met the same fate, a defeat by a score of 22-12. Each team played a remarkable game, but the best team won.

In our first scheduled game with Our Lady of the Angels we anticipated an easy victory, but we were again over-rating our ability. It was a hard-fought game, and our team tried its best.

but O. L. A. was the victor by a score of 18-17. When we met them again, February 14, our determination to avenge our former defeat gave us a 25-9 victory.

Our annual and long-awaited game with Dayton Oakwood was scheduled for February 22. It is probable that this team expected defeat, for in many previous years we had defeated them. However, our visitors did not make their long trip from Dayton, Ohio, for nothing. Both the girls and the boys went back victorious. We faced defeat with the score, 20-13.

With Newport we broke even. These girls had as their coach, Miss Ebert, who had refereed numerous games for us. In the opening game we came up against one of the fastest teams that we had encountered, and the game was a fight to the finish. Toward the end of the last quarter Newport steadily gained on us. However, by sheer energy, we were able to defeat them 52-50. March 3 we met Newport again, this time on our own floor, and lost 50-24, in spite of a seven-point lead at the end of the third quarter.

At the close of the season both teams, boys and girls, were guests at a delightful dance given in their honor by the Parent-Teacher Association. The members of the squad wish to express their appreciation to that organization for its interest. At this dance Harriet was chosen as our honorary captain for the year. Ten girls who had the required number of quarters received letters: first year letters, Doris Marty, Vivian Taylor, Jane Petty, Reva Griesinger, Charlotte Heller, and Georgiana Hetsch; second year letter, Harriet Frank; and third year letters, Elsie Jean Flohr, and Helen Myers; and a letter for the manager, Eloise Pothast.

Although the season was not exceptionally successful, we enjoyed working with our coach, Miss Roach, and appreciated the help of Mr. Bridges. There are only a few girls graduating this year and we know that the remaining and the new girls to come will uphold the standards which years of basketball at Highlands have built up. All we can say is, "Good luck for the future, girls."

TRACK

WITH an attractive schedule of eight meets arranged, Highlands entered the 1936 track season with a year of valuable experience behind her. Last year Highlands entered the ranks of big-time competition and fared well. Although the loss of six lettermen by graduation was a great detriment, the wealth of young material took the place of the grads, and carried Highlands to victory. Under the capable coaching of Mr. Rader, and under the co-captaincy of Dick Seale and Fred Hall, the team entered the fight, full of pep and vigor.

The first two meets in which Highlands competed were with Dayton and Bellevue respectively. In both meets Highlands was the victor and received valuable experience for the more difficult meets to follow.

Through the combined efforts of Coach Rader and the faculty, a squad of fifteen men were taken to Athens, Ohio, May 2, to compete in the Ohio University Relays. Funds were raised to finance this outstanding trip by the "On to Athens Movement" which the student body supported commendably. In this meet the spectacular mile-relay team, contesting with schools from three states, set a new meet record of 3:34.5. This great team was composed of Seale, Hicks, Hall, and McKenney. Although the track team did not win any of the other relays, they did very creditably when the talent from the other schools is considered.

On May 6, a triangular meet was held with Bellevue and Dayton as competitors. Highlands had met and defeated each school individually previous to this meet, and again turned the trick.

Last year the track team was taken to Miami University to compete in the Ohio State Track and Field Meet. In 1936 it was decided to enter the Kentucky State Meet. On Saturday, May 9, the team was taken to Louisville, confident of bringing home some recognition for Highlands. The boys were more successful than the team of the previous year had been. The mile-relay team again came through in spectacular fashion.

At the time of this writing four meets still remain on the slate. The first of these is to be held on May 15, at our own field. This meet will be the annual Highland Relays. Last year Highlands lost this coveted crown to the "Bulldogs" of Holmes. However, with the great amount of material and the strong determination of the team to capture the crown, Highlands looks toward this meet with more than a slight feeling of confidence.

The second of these remaining meets is the Little Six Conference Track and Field Meet. This, too, is an annual affair and one which yearly attracts throngs of spectators. Although Highlands has defeated Bellevue and Dayton, the strength of Erlanger, Crescent Springs, and Ludlow is comparatively unknown. It should be a very interesting meet and the best team, as usual, will win.

A. W. RADER

For the first time Highlands will play host to all the schools in Northern Kentucky at a track meet to be held on May 29. Coach Rader has invited every school in Northern Kentucky and it should be the thrilling climax to all the meets on Highlands track. In this galaxy of teams are Covington and Newport, who are known to have great teams annually. These two and approximately ten other teams will present a meet which will show the on-lookers that track is rapidly increasing in popularity.

Highlands second year of track comes to a close with the Cincinnati Relays at U. C. to be held on June 5. The team of last year took part in this meet and managed to place a team in second place in the mile relay, an event which consistently seems to be Highlands best bet. We have great hopes of this year's team capturing this event for the honour and glory of Highlands. With the closing of this meet Highlands draws the curtain on the most eventful, as well as the most successful, season we have ever witnessed.

Previous to this year many of the fellows who continually worked and ran with the boys did not receive the credit due them. At this time Mr. Rader and the co-captains, Dick Seale and Fred Hall, wish to express their sincere thanks and appreciation for the great spirit shown by these boys who never quite reached the top. This year's annual also wants to give credit to those boys who upheld the honour of Highlands by taking points in the various meets.

The prospects for next year's team are fully as capable as those who must leave this year. As their success can only come through hard work and obedience to their coach, the team is sure to obtain their goal. And so the final scene of Highlands 1936 track team comes to an end with a most successful finale, leaving the school with hopes of greater and more glorious achievements in future years.

THE MILE RELAY TEAM

The mile relay team of Highlands is one of the most outstanding groups of athletes ever to represent Highlands. These boys have brought fame and glory to the school wherever they have competed. They set a new state record at Athens, Ohio, and were awarded the beautiful trophy shown in the picture. This team won the Kentucky State Meet at Louisville, the Highland Relays, and are expected to win all coming events.

IN the past Highlands was noted for its tennis teams, but last year there wasn't much interest shown and a team wasn't even formed. However, this spring interest has again been aroused. Mr. Van Winkle consented to be the sponsor and matches were arranged with Western Hills, Hughes, Withrow, and Walnut Hills. The boys who came out for the team haven't had much experience in tournament play, but they are confident of their ability and are raring to go! If the team does do well it is feared that it will lose most of its lettermen by graduation and thus diminish the chances for a successful season next year, but it is hoped that this new spirit will be handed down to some under graduates and encourage them to strive for a good tennis team in the years to come.

The mashie wielders of 1936 promise to be fully as successful as last year's. Two lettermen from the team which won nine out of ten matches return and will be supported by the most auspicious group of aspirants ever seen at Highlands. Last year our "divot-diggers" won the Little Six Conference championship and prospects of repeating are very favorable. The competition will be bitter this season, because the teams in the Conference and others not in it will be seeking to avenge their defeats of the last few years. A difficult schedule has been arranged which brings as our opponents the members of the Little Six and also Holmes and Newport. The outlook for next year is very encouraging because this year only two of the boys turning out for the team will be lost by graduation.

ONLY the most proficient of the athletes are able to attain that athletic pinnacle of being on one of the squads which represents Highlands in inter-school sport activities. Therefore, in order that each and every student might have ample opportunity to participate in the various sports, a comprehensive program has been worked out which gives to each class the opportunity to form teams and compete with the other classes in the different sports. Basketball tournaments are held for both the Senior High and Junior High boys.

The Senior High School and Junior High School basketball tournaments elicited much interest. In the Senior tournament the mighty seniors were victorious without much difficulty. The same was true in the Junior tournament of the 9-A's who encountered very little opposition to their winning the championship. In the game between the two teams for the championship of the school, keen rivalry was displayed. To the utter humiliation of the seniors, they were forced to go down in ignominious defeat before the fast passing and sharp shooting of the 9-A youngsters.

There are many benefits to be derived from this program of intramural sports. The participants learn team play and spirit and have a closer comradeship with their fellows. Class spirit is stimulated by the competition among the different classes and this spirit is carried over into other fields than athletics. In the future it is hoped that intramural sports will occupy a more important position in the extra curricular activities of the students and efforts are being made to attain this end.

Basketball is always popular with the girls at Highlands. The interclass tournament is held each year at the close of the varsity season. "Letter" girls, barred from the class teams, act as coaches of their class teams and as referees for the games. This year there were many upsets to make the games more exciting. Every team won at least one game. All the games were hard fought, and the 11-A's had a right to be happy when they won the championship.

JUNIOR HIGH BASKETBALL CHAMPIONS

Third Row—Maschinot, Jackson, Blersch.

THE intra-mural program provides opportunities for every girl at Highlands to take part in competitive games. Volleyball and basketball tournaments have already been played by the senior high girls, while dartball, tennis, and baseball will be played during the spring.

This year the senior high volleyball tournament was especially exciting. The final game between the 11A's and the 12B's was full of tense moments as the two teams fought for every point. The 12B's finally won, taking their third—and last—volleyball championship.

In the junior high, home-rooms serve as the basis for competition. Each home-room is represented by a team in the kickball, volleyball, nine-court basketball and baseball tournaments. Ping-pong and deck tennis tournaments are the individual contests. This year Miss Greeno's 9B girls won the kickball tournament, while the 9B girls of Miss Cooper's home-room were victorious in both the volleyball and nine-court basketball tournament.
